VOTE THE STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN TICKET

The Republicans have selected a good national, state and city ticket. Vote it straight. Mr. Hughes will have a fair and impartial administration and allow no color line to be drawn; just like he did when he was governor of New York. No Negro of that state uttered a single word of complaint against him.

Judge Henry Lamun, the matchless campaigner, the just and exalted judge; the kindly, neighborly and staunch friend of the Negro will see that the law is applied equally and evenly. His public life is almost flawless. His broad and comprehensive views as a jurist have stamped his character for fair dealing and justice. He is a cool, sober-minded man with lofty ideals. Under his administration as governor such lynching and man-burning as took place at Springfield can not be repeated without meeting out to the perpetrators the direst punishment. Heretofore he has shown a deep interest in the "protection, education and welfare of the Negro in Missouri." We shall not forget that Judge Lamun personally worked to create ample facilities for the education of the Negro youth, helping to create Negro public schools here and there. He has always been considerate of the Negro's rights, both in private and public. It was on account of these good qualities that a convention of Negroes was called in Sedalia to prevail upon him to become a candidate for governor. They brought him out, gave him the first endorsement, he became our candidate and now desires every Negro vote on November 7.

Our city ticket, from top to bottom, is sound and straight Republican. You can not afford to scratch a single name. Vote it straight.

Considering the hardships we, as a race, are now undergoing, the political persecutions and proscriptions, it behooves every Negro to stand by his colors. His colors are his party, his flag and his manhood and he can not enjoy enfranchised manhood in this country unless the Republican party is in power. This is no time to experiment. The safe and sane way is—Vote the Republican Ticket and Vote it Straight.

DEMOCRATIC STATE BLUNDERS AND MISDEEDS

As the campaign draws to the end summaries give emphasis to the points which have been threshed out in the discussion, and the Republican candidate for governor, in his effort at Sikeston and throughout Scott County, makes a very interesting catalogue of the Democratic state blunders and misdeeds.

The creation of many jobs has bankrupted the state treasury. The state institutions have not been paid salaries nor expenses and had to borrow.

The teachers were not paid and were compelled to borrow. Democratic office holders were paid regularly.

The pensions were not paid. The Land Bank is a Democratic political scheme.

More than $300,000 of the school fund was subtracted for the state expenses.

The management of the state penitentiary was turned over to the chairman of the State Democratic Committee.

Appropriations were in excess of revenues $2,640,000. At 11 a. m. Rev. John DeShields, pastor, preached a very interesting sermon, which was enjoyed by all. Many visitors were present. There were three added to the church. Good music by the choir. Treating class met promptly at 6 p. m. with very interesting. At 7 p. m. the Bible Reading Circle met and at 8 p. m. Rev. DeShields delivered another strong sermon.

The Chicago News, the strongest daily newspaper west of the Alleghenies has forsaken Wilson, made a leap and landed in the Hughes' bandwagon.

Our eloquent Negro orator, Roscoe Conklin Simmons, is throwing the searchlights on President Wilson. The Negro is the rock upon which Wilson's hopes have foundered.

Republican Victory Assured

for his broken pledges. The record of the White House was ever so false to all American ideals. No president before Wilson ever stooped to the level of a Negro-baited. No other president ever showed that high office by putting the stamp of official approval upon the meanest and lowest of human passions, race hatred, by introducing the practice of segregation in the departments of the government to insult, humiliate and brand as inferior, the employees of the government of Negro race.

Wilson is nothing but the utmost contempt for every member of the Negro race, but he is not too proud to ask for votes from those whom he has so ignominiously branded. He has and has always believed in the doctrine that, "the Negro has no rights that a white man is bound to respect. But in his hypocritical selfishness, he would acquire himself of any wrong doing. Wilson is so saturated with race prejudice that he not only approves of his racial policy, but he has deliberately inspired the heads of every arm of the government service to follow his example, and we may look for much wider promulgation of the same kind if he is re-elected.

Early in his present administration, when a protest went to Washington against the unjust discrimination made by the Post Office Department in the promotion of Negro clerks, the reply came in unmistakable language, to the effect that: "Not only would the promotion of Negroes to positions where they would be the official superiors of white men, be discontinued, but that hereafter the policy of the administration would be to decrease the number of Negroes in the service."

This means the gradual elimination of the Negro from the postal service. Four years more of Wilson will mean the complete destruction of all the rights the Negro now has. Bills were introduced during the last Congress by Democrats to strip the Negro bare of his rights, and most assured that they will be revived and passed if the Democrats are returned to power.

Beware of Greeks bearing gifts. Let the Negro voters "Beware of Greeks bearing gifts." The betrayer makes his approach in many forms. One of the most seductive forms of approach is the gift in the form of "easy money." Unless you are very firm, you may fall a victim to this bait. Don't be deceived by flattering promises of easy money in selling your birthright for a mess of pottage.

It may look easy to you to take some of this easy money to work for (friends) Democrat without sacrifice of your principles, but thousands of the most intelligent men lose their vote at every general election by scratching their ballots for the Democrat.

The Negro voter has too much at stake to take the slightest chance with a ballot at this election. Scratching a ballot is dangerous work. Party principles are more important than election than men. Take no such chance. A straight ballot is easily counted and gives no excuse for being rejected.

Hughes, the foe of the Negro. Charles Evans Hughes has always been just and friendly in his attitude toward the Negro. His actions as Governor of New York and as Assistant Justice of the United States Supreme Court have always been in accord with the traditions and policies of the Republican party. He has been bold and outspoken in his decisions as a Supreme Court judge, and the Negro has received more favorable decisions from that tribunal since he has been on the bench than during the previous fifty years.

The Negro's cause was in safe hands when he was on the Supreme Bench and the interests of the Negro race will be safe in his hands as president. The election of Hughes and Fairbanks will mean the restoration to the Negro of all of which Wilson and his associates have robbed him in the last four years and give him an equal opportunity with other classes of citizens in the struggle for advancement.

In the celebrated penance case of Louis Bailey, Justice Hughes wrote a decision in which he interpreted the Thirteenth Amendment as, "A charter of universal civil liberty for all persons, of whatever race, color or estate, intended to abolish slavery of whatever name or form, and all its badges and incidents; to render impossible any state of bondage, to make labor free, by prohibiting involuntary servitude."

In any emergency Hughes as president could be relied upon to act with high and noble purpose and decide justly, if our interests are at stake. He would not be controlled by any kind of prejudice, but would consider and weigh the evidence without regard to the race or color of the parties involved. As Negroes we ask no more than justice, and this we are sure of under an administration presided over by Charles Evans Hughes.

It is up to every Negro voter to decide for himself whether he will prefer to have Hughes, who will protect his rights and who will not try them, as president for the next four years.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

November 5—Men's Meeting Begins at Pythian Hall

The men's meetings of the Young Men's Christian Association begin Sunday, November 5, at the Pythian Hall. This will be a series of eight meetings under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, running through November and December. The first meeting will be addressed by Dr. W. F. McMillan, pastor of the Lafayette Park Presbyterian Church. This is Dr. McMillan's first appearance before the Y. M. C. A. and the Religious Work Committee is making strenuous efforts to have a large crowd hear him. There will be a glad band of good music and inspirational singing to greet all who come.

The information was given out at the Y. M. C. A. branch that the Building Fund is gradually growing, and assurance is also made that the lot which has been delayed for so long a time, will be purchased shortly.

In the Employment Department, the Association has not been able to supply the calls for help that have come. Any young man who can furnish satisfactory reference can, in all likelihood, be placed by applying at the Association Building.

Among the dormitory men of the last week was Edward Drew, the sprinter of international reputation. Drew was in the city as assistant coach of the Drake University foot ball team. He is in the city as his headquarters at the Y. M. C. A. Mr. G. W. Moore, secretary of the International Committee, was also a transient at the Young Men's Christian Association through the week.

Mr. J. Smith has as her guests her sisters, the Misses Harris of Booneville, Mo.

Many Corinthian members attended the funeral of Rev. Wm. Banks in Clayton last Tuesday.

IN MEMORIAM.

To my dear husband, Harrison Mayes, who departed this life Oct. 26, 1914:

A shadow fell upon my life,
When Death, the Reaper, came;
And took my husband, dear away,
From earthly care and pain;
But when the mist has passed away,
I'll meet him some sweet day,
And may God help us both in time
To awaken in a brighter clime.

IN MEMORIAM.

In memory of our dear daughter and sister, Virginia M. Calvin, who departed this life Oct. 26, 1915:

"Time rolls on, it will not stay,
How we felt since that sad day,
With one so loving, kind and true,
How hard it was to part with you."

"In the graveyard softly sleeping,
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly,
In her lonely silent grave."
Ponderful your deep sleep, dear one,
"Sweet to breathe your name."

Sadly missed by mother, Mrs. Anna Allen, sisters, Mrs. Victor Simon and Mrs. Chas. Jones.

IF ELECTION WERE OVER?

While Democrats Are Admittedly the Champion Question Plends, It Is Believed This Quiz Is as Unanswerable as Their Most Childlike Effort.

If election day were past, would President Wilson make so little of the principle of arbitration in industrial disputes? Would he be so sure that it is more important to preserve peace, when a great strike is threatened, than it is to make judicial methods rather than force the means of settling differences between capital and labor? If election day were not to be considered Mr. Wilson keep the national guardsmen of the country in camp on the ground that they may be needed to protect the United States against Mexico? Would there be months of inaction and indecision in which no use is made of a large body of citizen soldiers? Would they not be allowed to go home or else be set in motion to make Mexico as safe a neighbor as the Administration seems to think that it is ready?

If election day were past would the President drive through Congress a bill like the shipping bill which is intended to embark the federal government upon a new venture in a hazardous field and use $50,000,000 of the people's money to buy tonnage held above its normal value or else so owned that it cannot be used without peril of international complications? Is sound public policy behind such a measure or only campaign politics? If election day were not to be considered would Woodrow Wilson use so many high and mighty words in international notes and do so little to make his words live in practice? Would his deeds lag so far behind his phrases—Cleveland Leader.

"HE DIDN'T DO RIGHT"

Independent Voters Turning This Conviction Over and Over in Their Minds and It Will Cost Mr. Wilson Many a Vote.

A Democrat who never voted for a Republican candidate for President except in 1872, when he was forced by the lack of a Democratic nominee to cast his ballot for Horace Greeley, says: "I expect to vote for Woodrow Wilson, but I don't like his course in the railroad dispute. He didn't do right."

The railroad controversy has introduced a moral issue into the campaign. Mr. Wilson sacrificed principle to expediency, or what he judged to be expediency, when he tamely surrendered to the demands of the train-service brotherhoods.

He put his own personal and party need before the public good. He angled for votes. He aimed a body blow at the tried and tested arbitration method of settling differences.

"God help you," I cannot," he is said to have exclaimed to the railroad managers, who do not poll as many votes as their employees. But he could have helped them if he had stood impartially between them and the utterly reckless train-service representatives who were bent on their rule-or-ruin programme.

"He didn't do right." The consciousness of that fact is sinking deep into the American mind.

"He didn't do right." That wide-spread conviction will cost him thousands of votes on election day.

"He didn't do right." He preferred the weak, the timid, attitude of the born compromiser.

The American people like courage. The like convictions. They like a man who has the courage of his convictions. They like a man who is willing to risk consequences for the sake of a just cause.

It was an unjust cause in which Woodrow Wilson enlisted when he accepted the brotherhood view that the chief item in their demands could not be arbitrated—Evidence Journal.

FIVE THOUSAND A DAY.

Enrollments in the Hughes National College League.

The Hughes' National College League, 511 Fifth avenue, New York, is receiving enrollments at the rate of five thousand a day. They are coming from all parts of the country, and the work of organizing branches in all states and most of the important cities has been started. A large percentage of the enrollments are from men who give their usual political affiliations as Progressive, Democratic or Independent.

The league has received the endorsement of Governor Hughes, who wrote: "It is rare that there was ever a time when the educated men of the country who have their hearts set on sound work for right principles and strong government. It is now." Chairman Willcox of the Republican National Committee, ex-President Taft, and John Hays Hammond have also praised the work enthusiastically, as much as the score of the benefit to the men themselves as of the real work it will do to help elect Governor Hughes.

The President must be credited with having stuck a stick over if he can get the votes and make the people pay the freight.

Late politicians are proverbial, but aren't these Mexican commissioners exceeding the limit when they persist in libeling Woodrow Wilson to Venustiano Carranza?

Budweiser— and Other Foods

There's food value in beer—as well as beverage enjoyment. A bottle of Budweiser may not be offered as a complete meal—but it has its place in the meal comparable to bread, milk or any other of the dishes or drinks that are part of the well-balanced lunch or dinner.

The alcohol in beer (a small percentage) has its tonic value and its use as an appetizer. The hops have a nerve-soothing value. The malt not only has food value, but is, of all foods, one of the most quickly and easily turned by digestion into nourishment. By its very nature beer is especially thirst-satisfying.

Here are Two Little Charts

that show graphically and in figures comparisons between beer and other beverages and beer and other foods:

Comparative Nutrients Extract Content		Comparative Alcohol Content
	Whisky
	Rhine Wine
	Beer
	Milk

Average Composition of	Bread	Milk	Beer	Rhine Wine	Whisky
Carbohydrates	52.0%	4.8%	5.0%	2.25%	none
Protein	7.0%	3.5%	0.5%	none	none
Fat	0.4%	3.7%	none	none	none
Mineral Substances	1.0%	0.7%	0.2%	0.2%	none
Alcohol by weight	none	none	3.75%	8.0%	40.0%

When you think of beer for your table, of course you'll settle on Budweiser.

Political Jottings

The Wilson Keynote.
In his kneeling to the demands of the traitors, in his sacrifice of the sacred principle of arbitration on the altar of peace-at-any-price, we see, in review, the whole philosophy of the Wilson theory of government and nationality.

"It is better to run than to fight."

That theory is at work in American government today for the first time—Boston Journal.

The Wilson Waits.
In view of the results of the following formula overheard at a hotel veranda may be of interest: The Wilson waits, one step forward, three steps backward, hesitates, then advances.

The Administration is depressed by the reflection that under no circumstances can it postpone election day.

Wilson insists that he will never recognize government by assassination, but he has cut off relations with those who have assassinated Americans.

The first President and the first Congress that ever submitted to a hold-up.

And, by the way, nobody will ever be able to claim this was a regular Democratic Administration unless we have a bond issue before March 4, 1917.

Betting on Hughes and Wilson is dangerous both to Democrats and Republicans. In one of the New England states such a bet was made a few days ago. The officers heard of it and they arrested the Republican on a charge of robbery and sent the Democrat to an insane asylum. Be careful.

One thing we must all admit. The President is never too proud to sidestep.

A surplus of $5,200,000 from the postal service during the fiscal year ending June 30, is reported by Postmaster-General Burleson. With the department more than paying expenses, it would seem that the executive officials could afford to keep on the payroll members of the National Guard who responded when the President called out the Organized Militia for duty on the border.

President Wilson seems to have founded his diplomacy on a rock which is off its base most of the time.

The Eastern witnesses persist in referring to the Secretary of the Navy as Miss Josephine Daniels. No wonder the Woman's Party is camping on the trail of the Administration!

Mr. Wilson forgot to mention the pledges of economy in the 1912 platform.

"In his diplomacy," says Ollie James, "the President has sounded a new note." What, another one?

It begins to appear that that single-track mind system will have to be temporarily discarded in a few weeks hence, of course, it will be side-tracked.

WILSON FORMERLY ASSAILED THE LABOR UNION.

The President is now a candidate for office and speaks well of labor. Until he became a candidate for office, and as long as he was President of a University, he, with his safety, ignored or assailed the labor unions. Indeed, he was then their bitter, ungenerous, and often unjust enemy. At the People's Forum on February 25, 1905, he said: "Labor Union drag the highest man to the level of the lowest." In an address at dinner in the Waldorf-Astoria on March 18, 1907, in speaking of the capitalists, he said: "There is another equally formidable enemy to equality and betterment of opportunity, and that is the class formed by the labor organizations and leaders of this country." In a letter written January 12, 1909, he said: "I am a fierce partisan of the open shop." In June of the same year, speaking at Princeton, he said: "The usual standard of the employee in our day is to give as little as he may for his wages. Labor is standardized by the trade unions and this is the standard to which it is made to conform. I need not point out how economically disastrous such a regulation of labor is. The labor of America is rapidly becoming unaffordable under this regulation. Our economic supremacy may be lost because the country grows more and more full of unprofitable servants." I have no question that when Mr. Wilson thus spoke he expressed his sincere convictions. Less than two years later he was in public life and immediately his attitude changed. There is no reason to believe that his convictions changed—From the Speech of Colonel Roosevelt at Battle Creek, Michigan, in Behalf of Mr. Hughes.

EMPTY PHRASES INSTEAD OF CONCRETE ACTION.

Not once has President Wilson squarely placed before the American people the question which Abraham Lincoln put before the American people in 1860: what is our duty? Not once has he appealed to moral idealism to the stern enthusiasm of strong men for the right. On the contrary, he has employed every eloquent device to lull to sleep our sense of duty, to make us content with words instead of deeds, to make our moral idealism and enthusiasm evaporate in empty phrases instead of being reduced to concrete action—From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

Telling Tariff Points

Let these telling points on tariff and protection: In the speech by Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate for President, delivered in the Salt Lake Tabernacle, he fixed permanently in your mind and memory during the remainder of the campaign:

We are desirous of having strong and sure the foundations of our national greatness in this pursuit of competition among the nations which is sure to follow the cessation of the present struggle.

I presume that the Republican party as the national party, according to the constitution of the United States, within the national sphere, shall proceed wherever it is practicable, to build up and foster and encourage American enterprise, and open the doors wide for honest American achievement.

Then came the Underwood tariff bill. What was the result? Enterprise halted and there was a contraction of trade throughout the land, and America, instead of going ahead, stopped. That is what happened.

Three hundred thousand were unemployed in the City of New York. There was not a city in this land where the jobless man anxious and able to work did not walk the street. They were fed by our charitable organizations, which were taxed to the limit to provide for those for whom American enterprise could no longer make provision. It was a spectacle. Americans have not forgotten it. It is not forgotten here or anywhere. It cannot be forgotten. It is too recent.

If you are going to have the basis for prosperity in this country; if you are going to protect the American wage scale; if you are going to have American enterprise able to meet the competition which will follow the ending of this war, you must have an honestly devised, wisely framed tariff law to protect American industry.

No, the Democratic party will not be saved by the European war. If you would know what our condition will be when the war ends, think of what our condition was before that war began, if you think these nations are so impoverished that they cannot again turn to work. Those millions of men now fighting are better able to work than when they were in their lives. Their factories are there; their plants are there; they know themselves better than ever before. They are more alert, more alert, keener, stronger, better physically than ever before, in the main, and they are ready to turn great national energies into the pursuit of peace to pay their war bills, to produce up to the limit, to send their goods throughout the world.

I propose that we shall study this out, applying a principle that we believe in, and secure intelligently and honestly adequate protection to American industries in every part of this land.

WHY HUGHES IS NEEDED IN THIS TREMENDOUS CRISIS.

Against Mr. Wilson's combination of grace in elocution with fertility in action; against his record of words unbacked by deeds or betrayed by deeds, we set Mr. Hughes' rugged and uncompromising straightforwardness of character and action in every office he has held. We put the man who thinks and speaks directly, and whose words have always been made good, against the man whose adroit and facile elocution is used to conceal his plans or his want of plans. The past four years may well be years of tremendous national strain. Which of the two men do you, the American people, wish at the helm during those four years; the man who has been actually tried and found wanting, or the man whose whole career in public office is a guarantee of his power and good faith? But one answer is possible; and it must be given by the American people throughout the United States—From speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.
